Welfare Potato Hotter As B.C. Dispute Flares

The British Columbia welfare potato is growing hotter. Capped by a declaration from Highway Minister Paul Gagliardi that the problem may never be solved, these developments were reported Thursday.

Prime George's cabinet called for a full investigation and report on the welfare of the potato industry after agreeing the suspension of the social workers for "misconduct and neglect" gave the only a black eye across Canada.

Nine households were protesting the suspension in the welfare department. Attorney-General Bennett said legislation is required to stop the addition of new households to the welfare department. He said the department is not a "welfare department" and that the welfare department is not a "welfare department" and that the welfare department is not a "welfare department."

And in Vancouver, the City Council was reported by others from against increased government intervention in community welfare services.

Johnson Warns Red China Of South Viet Nam Danger

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Johnson in an address to Congress said today that the danger of Communist China in South Viet Nam is "a very real and very dangerous one."

At the same time, Johnson argued that the troubles of the Communist world are more acute than those facing the United States. He said U.S. problems are eclipsed by the spreading civil war among Communists — a reference to the policy gap between the Soviet Union and Communist China.

The president gave his foreign policy views in an address prepared for an outdoor ceremony at the University of California at Los Angeles, held to honor Johnson and visiting President Lopez Mateos of Mexico.

This was the prelude to two days of talks at the desert resort of Palm Springs, 90 miles away.

REITERATES SUPPORT

Johnson reiterated U.S. determination to support the independence of South Viet Nam. He described this as a 10-year-old commitment "we will continue to honor."

He said the Vietnamese war "is first and foremost a contest to be won by the government and people of that country for themselves."

Speaking of Cuba's cutoff of water to the Guantanamo naval base, Johnson said:

"We have dealt with the latest challenge and provocation from Havana, without sending the message to turn on a water faucet."

Some members of Congress, including Senator Barry Goldwater (Rep. Ariz.), urged marine intervention after the Cuban shut off the flow of water to Guantanamo.

$89 Million Takeover Offer Made For Steel Pipe Firm

HAMILTON (CP)—The Steel Company of Canada today moved to acquire control of the Page-Hersey Tubes Limited, Canada's biggest manufacturer of steel pipes, in an offer worth about $89,000,000.

In a joint announcement, the companies said an offer is being made to shareholders by Stelco to buy all the outstanding common shares of Page-Hersey, a complex in Welland, Ont., on a share exchange basis.

The Stelco offer is 94 of its common shares for eight Page-Hersey shares.

On the basis of today's opening prices on the Toronto Stock Exchange (Stelco $21, Page-Hersey $22) the offer is equivalent to $27.50 per Page-Hersey share.

ONE CONDITION SET

The offer is conditional upon at least 90 per cent of the outstanding Page-Hersey shares after steel pipes.

Judge Warns Ruby's Lawyer After Court Shouting Match

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's lawyer tried hard to shake lawyers used up two more peremptory challenges in his murder trial today during a thunderous session in which Judge Joe B. Brown warned one of the defense lawyers about the possibility of letting him for contempt of court.

It was the seventh peremptory challenge by the defense out of its allotted 15. Ruby's lawyers employed the challenge to reject Herbert Goellner, Assistant defence lawyer Joe

Regina States Budget Aims

REGINA (CP)—New programs in education, social welfare and agriculture were unveiled today in the 1964-65 Saskatchewan budget which called for record expenditures of $244,876,150 and a surplus of $111,000.

There were no tax changes. Provincial Treasurer J. H. Brookbank, introducing his second budget, told the legislature that the new programs are designed to go a step further in achieving "through the programs of positive government a dignified, a better and more varied life for the individual."

He said the CCF government will spend about $250,000,000 in the current fiscal year, ending March 31, instead of the $191,800,000 budgeted last year.

And because Saskatchewan was having a boom, the government expected a surplus of $17,000,000 for the current fiscal year instead of a deficit of $3,500,000 predicted when the budget was drafted a year ago.

The surplus was predicted on top of a $10,000,000 reduction last year in personal premiums for medical care and hospital insurance.

EXCELLENT WHEAT CROP

Mr. Brookbank said the extra money received by the government in the current year was due to an unexpected wheat crop and increasing industrial production.

Public health and education will eat up more than half the budget.

U.S. Economy Hits Jackpot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Official figures showed Thursday that U.S. economy hit the $600,000,000 mark, as expected, in late 1963. Further gains were predicted in the first few weeks of this year.

The production increase of four per cent for 1963 fell short of boom proportions, but it was above the long-term average, and slightly higher than the official government prediction. With price inflation taken into account, the gain was 5.5 per cent.

The Commerce Department said the production product—the sum of all goods and services—reached an annual rate of $600,000,000 in the final three months of the year. For the year as a whole, the figure was $585,000,000. For 1962, it was $554,000,000.

Since the low point of the recession in early 1961, the country's output has climbed 15.5 per cent, after allowances for price increases.

Tories And NDP On Attack With 2 No-Confidence Moves

OTTAWA (CP)—The Pearson will not be able to count as tax-ministry government was challenged Thursday by two no-confidence motions as the party leaders opened an eight-day thrice speech debate with some of the most forceful, incisive of story the Commons has heard for some time.

REJECTS ROBERTS

2. In effect, he turned aside Ontario Premier John Roberts' strong criticisms of the Canada pension plan and said the legislation, for that constituency, was a "very important measure" which would be introduced soon without waiting for the federal-provincial conference in Quebec City starting next March 31.

3. He also rejected the attitude of Quebec Premier Jean Lesage that the proposed federal student contribution program in Ontario was an invasion of provincial education rights. There would be close consultation with the provinces in working out details. Quebec had been informed of the federal plan before it was announced in the House speech.

STUDIED CAREFULLY

Mr. Pearson's speech also included a major pronouncement on Canadian periodicity against national unity. It obviously included an income-tax amendment statement and he followed his intent under which advertisers prepared text closely.

FIRST TESTS

The two votes will be the first tests of the new system for the government. At the last session it weathered nine no-confidence motions, despite the fact that the Liberals are outnumbered 155 to 129 by the combined opposition.

There was no immediate indication of how the opposition parties would line up on the two divisions.

BID AT ASSASSINATION FAILS

ANKARA (Reuters)—Prime Minister Ismet Inonu of Turkey, 80, narrowly escaped an attempt on his life here today when a man with a pistol fired three shots at him and missed.

A member of Inonu's bodyguard fired one shot at the prime minister's assailant, but he, too, missed.

Guards swarmed over the would-be assassin and disarmed him. He was identified as Mesut Suna, about 30, an electrician in a textile factory.

Police said Suna told them: "I am against the May, 1960, revolution. Inonu has been pushing the country toward the west, and I hated him. I have been carrying a gun for a long time to kill him."

PRECAUTION IN SENSITIVE AREAS

Risky Armories To Be "Denuded"

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Hellyer announced today in the Commons that small arms will be removed from armories which can't be provided with maximum security.

Outside the Commons, he said this defence department order would not apply throughout Canada. It would apply to "sensitive" areas, including the province of Quebec.

Asked whether Quebec alone was affected, Mr. Hellyer said no.

An informant said the order would apply to armories near the Quebec border—that is, some armories in Ontario and New Brunswick.

Mr. Hellyer said in an interview that all ammunition was removed earlier from between 50 and 75 armories in Quebec.

WON'T DISBAND MILITIA

He said militia units will not be disbanded despite the fact they would have no weapons. Weapons would be provided to these units on a "controlled basis."

An informant said it would be uneconomic to provide maximum security for all armories in Quebec. Therefore small arms would be withdrawn from most of them to central depots—unidentified—and only a few provided with maximum security.

BRECH BLOCKS REMOVED

Mr. Hellyer said he defined maximum security as "something less" than the high degree of protection for the Home Guard. The clock by persons in military uniform.

He said no useable weapons were obtained by thieves in raids on the armories at Noranda, Que., and Shawinigan, Que., because the breach blocks had been removed from rifles and stored separately.

He declined to define the "sensitive areas" where small arms will be taken from armories.

Mr. Hellyer informed the Commons the new security orders were issued today.

Other long-term security measures would be introduced as soon as possible.

Mao Offers China's Friendship To U.S. Provided "You Get Out Of Formosa"

Mao Tse-tung, Communist Chinese leader, has offered China's friendship to the United States if the Americans get out of Formosa, it was reported Thursday. Mao's offer of friendship came in a conversation with French parliamentarians in Peking recently and was reported by the student French delegation when it returned. The Chinese leader also predicted there would be a revolution in South Vietnam with American arms.

Plan To Guard Periodicals Spelled To House By Pearson

OTTAWA (CP) — A plan to protect Canadian periodicals from being pressed by United States competition for advertising revenue, was spelled out Thursday in the Commons by Prime Minister Pearson.

His measures constitute almost the same ideas proposed by the former Conservative government in the last Parliament but never enacted.

Both governments had drawn on the 1961 recommendations of a royal commission headed by now-Senator M. Gratton O'Leary, president of the Ottawa Journal.

The plan differs from the previous government's proposal only in exempting foreign publications under the five-per-cent limit. No limit was proposed by the Conservatives.

The commission's two main recommendations were to withhold the tax-deduction provision for costs of advertising in any foreign periodical, including Time and Reader's Digest, and to ban any magazine with Canadian domestic advertising.

Mr. Pearson said government intended to exempt Time and Reader's Digest—officials said these constitute the only known major exceptions—because both publications have had Canadian operations for some time.

Policeman To Appeal In Crippling

SARNIA, Ont. (CP) — City policeman Richard Gunn, ordered by a court to pay $83,791 damages for crippling a man with a night stick, said today he is determined not to pay a penny of the amount.

"I'll fight this thing as far as I can go," he said in an interview.

The 33-year-old father was successfully sued in Ontario Supreme Court for false arrest and using excessive force by William Williams and his father George Williams.

William Williams, 29, was left paralyzed and with a mental age of eight as a result of the night stick blow during a fight last April 21.

Gunn, who has no insurance to cover the action, said he believes he was not to blame.

"I was doing my job and these men had already beaten up two policemen," he said.

Gunn is a 35-year-old policeman with 13 years of service on the Sarnia force.

New B.C. Bank Under Debate

VANCOUVER (CP) — The proposed Bank of British Columbia was debated in the legislature Thursday with a Liberal complaining that Social Credit Premier Bennett will be given unlimited access to public funds.

Alan Macfarlane of Oak Bay was protesting the provisions of a bill that would permit the government to purchase up to 25 per cent of the capital stock of the bank.

Second reading, approval in principle, of the bill was supported by Ralph Lefkowitz (S.C.-Vancouver Point Grey), professor of economics at the University of B.C.

Mr. Macfarlane said the bill asks the legislature "to give the premier a permanent blank cheque on the public treasury of this province."

He said no one has been told how much money the government proposes to invest in the bank.

Premier Bennett had said the bank's capitalization would be "many times $50,000,000."

"We are being asked to open wide the doors of the public vault and throw away the key," said Mr. Macfarlane.

Every British Columbian was in favor of a new chartered bank on the coast "but not everyone is in favor of one owned and controlled by this or any other government."

BBG To Prune Commercials

OTTAWA (CP) — A 25-per-cent reduction in the time television stations provide for commercials is proposed by the Board of Broadcast Governors.

The board said Thursday it is suggesting that the present hourly limit of 16 minutes on a 30-minute program be reduced to 12 minutes.

The proposed amendment to the broadcasting regulations will be submitted to a public hearing in Ottawa opening March 10.

The board's proposal is being left unchanged, at least for the time being, for development of a program.

Chamber Might Discuss Proposal At Annual Meet

WESTBANK — There is a move afoot in the Westbank area to build a hospital in the community.

A chamber of commerce of Westbank would not be quoted, today, but The Daily Courier, the matter might come up at the annual meeting of the chamber Tuesday night, but it would certainly be brought to the attention of the chamber executive as soon as possible.

EXPANSION

Officials of Kelowna General Hospital, planning a $600,000 expansion of that plant, are now attempting to form a hospital improvement district. The proposed district would include Westbank, Kelowna and all the surrounding area.

"We have thought for some time we should have at least a large type hospital in Westbank," said the chamber executive today.

Some say a 150 bed hospital

MOST VOICE

M. R. Chisholm, a former officer of the Westbank chamber, has been most vocal in suggesting the new hospital.

He suggests west side residents from Penticton to Williams Landing get together for the purpose, and that the Westbank chamber spearhead the plan to have land directly east of the public works buildings in Westbank set aside for the proposed hospital.

The building suggested would be a large structure, but a hospital, parking area, and such buildings as laundry and nurses' home, the proposed hospital would be a large growth of the west side area, suggests the residents should carefully study the proposal," he said.

Boy Scout Week Marked in Area

In Kelowna, Boy Scout week is marked by activities within the troops, rather than public campaigns. Bert Munnell, president of the Okanagan District Council of Boy Scouts of Canada, said today.

A lot of our troops had family nights on father and son teams this week and there are others planned for next week," he said.

CHURCH PARADES

The culmination of Boy Scout week will be church parades on Sunday. The commemorative services are in memorial to Baden-Powell. During the service, the scouts will dedicate themselves to the scout laws.

The 1st, 2nd and 3rd Kelowna troops and the Okanagan Group will parade at the First United Church at 11 a.m.

The 4th Kelowna troop will attend service at St. Michael's and All Angels Church at 3 p.m. The 5th Kelowna troop will attend service at St. Paul's United Church at 11 a.m.

In Westbank, the club pack will meet at the United Church at 11 a.m. and the scout troop will parade at the Westbank Anglican church for evening service.

The Rutland Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies will parade to St. Theresa's Roman Catholic Church at 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Scouts and Guides will meet at the high school.

There will be no parade in Westbank, but the Scouts will attend their own church service at 11 a.m. for evening services.

B.C. Dragoons Conference Begins 9 a.m. Sunday In City

There will be a full dress regimental conference of the B.C. Dragoons at the Kelowna armory Feb. 22. Called Dragoon 64, the exercise will deal with administration, general training and institutional problems of the regiment.

It will be attended by officers of all three squadrons.

"A", "B", "C", from Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton.

The exercise will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 4 p.m.

Commanding officer will be Lt. Col. J. A. E. Davis of Kelowna. He will moderate submissions presented by the commanding officers of the three squadrons. There will be a full discussion of the submissions.

CAUCUS

WO 1 D. J. Appleton will lead a regimental sergeant majors' caucus at which senior NCOs will discuss possible improvement in their area of operations.

Commanding officer of the B.C. Dragoons is Lt. Col. D. R. Cameron, C.D. Second in command is Major T. C. Chapman, Penticton. The officers commanding the three squadrons are Capt. J. R. Nelson, C.D., "A" squadron, Vernon; Maj. G. J. Munnell, C.D., "B" squadron, Kelowna; and Capt. H. T. Wright, C.D., "C" squadron, Penticton.

Car, Train In Collision

Two accidents were reported to police Thursday. A two-car crash and a car-train collision.

A 6:45 p.m., a car driven by Frank Baumgarten of Kelowna was in a collision with a train at the Ellis St. and Clement Ave. crossing. No injuries were reported to police. No estimate of damage is available. Police are still investigating.

The two-car mishap occurred in the Arena parking lot at 4 p.m. Total damage is estimated at approximately $100. Drivers of the cars involved were Evald Doms of R.R. 5 and Michael Halleran, 1853 Water St. There were no injuries and no charges are contemplated police said.

KIN FOUNDER'S NOBIT

The Kinsmen club of Kelowna will hold their annual Founder's Night, Feb. 22 at the Kelowna Aquatic club, Paul Ponich, club publicity director said today.

The event will begin with a banquet at 6:30 p.m., followed by a business meeting and a dance. It will be a mixed affair with wives invited.

PRINCIPAL FROM DUNCAN SCHOOL CALLS IT "TEACHERS' DREAM"

Sunnyvale Workshop 'Impressive'

Mrs. A. E. Boyle, principal of the Duncan school for retarded children said she was amazed at the cooperation Kelowna district firms give to Sunnyvale school.

Mrs. Boyle was commenting on the paid projects the workshop division takes on in the school here.

"This new building is every teacher's dream," she said. "You a lovely set-up in Kelowna. You're very fortunate to have all those resources to call upon for workshop projects."

ENROUTE TO VERNON

She is enroute to the executive meeting of B.C. instructors of retarded children in Vernon and took advantage of the opportunity to visit the Kelowna school.

"Our aim in all of these schools is to help the child acquire its greatest potential and to help them to walk in dignity," she said.

Mrs. Boyle has been teaching in the Duncan school for five years. The school itself has been running for seven. They use an older type building that was once a school. They have only nine pupils in classes and kindergarten.

FOUR GROUPS

The Sunnyvale school, operating for 11 years, has 31 pupils in four groups. The pre-school (4 to 6), the primary (6 to 9), the juniors (9 to 16) and the senior workshop for 18 and over.

Mrs. Boyle said the curriculum is similar, the minimum of regular school work with the emphasis on crafts. She does not have a workshop as yet. Victoria has a day care nursery for very young retarded babies, a kindergarten for the pre-schoolers and a rehabilitation centre for the 18 and over.

POLL RECORDS REACTION TO CITY TRAFFIC LIGHT CHANGES

This week, the city of Kelowna's electrical crew are busy installing new over-hanging traffic lights. The new signals, in the middle of Bernard Avenue intersections, replace the former corner lights. A Daily Courier reporter-photographer team asked these citizens, "What do you think of the new lighting system?" Bill Bixton, 423 Chestnut Avenue, said "I like it better. Once you get used to them they will be much easier to see. When they were on the corners, they were even with the moon signs on buildings and hard to distinguish." Floyd Lillies, 1504 Richmond Street said, "They seem to be much better in the middle. Before, when the lights often missed them." Lillian Titanes, Box 6 Kelowna said, "I don't think they are as good. They are hard to see now. I find Vernon's lights hard to see too." Frank Maxson, R.R. 5, Kelowna said, "I don't think it will make much difference to Kelowna people, but it will to tourists. Lights in the centre can't be missed.

It's a better system. Most of us have never seen a hanging light." Gordon Mitchell, 25 Lake Avenue said, "The way they put these new lights up, I drove down Bernard and couldn't find any signals. Most of us have signals in two positions. Until people get used to them, there should be a transition. I don't think it will make much difference to Kelowna people, but it will to tourists. Lights in the centre can't be missed.

256 Atteuden street said, "There is not really much difference. After seeing we will get used to the over-hanging lights. Right now I'm used to the old ones and look the wrong way." Bill Baker, 1508 Highland drive north said, "The over-hanging lights are easier for motorists to see. The new lights are at the intersection of line and Bernard as a much better position. However the change is more difficult for the pedestrian now. They should have made some provision for them."

Home Construction Starts Set January Record in B.C.

The number of housing starts during 1963 of the previous year. There were 10,884 houses completed during 1963.

There were 10 completions in January, 1964, compared with 13 the previous year. The year of 1963 saw a total of 188 completions.

In B.C. there were 12,559 housing starts in 1963. In January, 1964, there were 1,088 starts compared with 608 the previous year.

In January there were 731 completions compared with 557 in January, 1963.

Throughout the province there was an increase of 79 per cent in housing starts over the previous January.

"This reflects the continuing influence of the winter incentive bonus and the big increase in multiple dwelling starts, principally several large apartment buildings started in Victoria and New Westminster," the corporation said.

MHA loan approvals, at 214 in January, 1964, were 16.9 per cent ahead of January, 1963, but only half as numerous as in Dec., 1963.

Houses under construction in Kelowna rose to 122 by January 21 from 94 in the same period the previous year.

In Kelowna there were 239 houses under construction last month, rose to 1,192 from 919 the previous year.

The number of newly completed and unoccupied houses fell in Vancouver and Victoria.

In Vancouver from 407 in December to 262 in January and in Victoria from 49 to 43. This is still moderately higher than a year ago in Vancouver, but lower than at this time last year in Victoria.

The high pressure area over B.C. will remain stationary for at least the next 48 hours. It will maintain the current spell of mild sunny weather in almost all regions, the Vancouver weather bureau said today.

Even the northeast corner of the province is enjoying a spring thaw as indicated by Fort Nelson's 41 degree temperature at 4 a.m.

The high in Kelowna Thursday was 45 and the low was 23, and 40.

A year ago on the same day the high and low was 44 and 31.

The Okanagan, Lillooet, South Thompson, Kootenay and North Thompson regions will be sunny today and Saturday except for occasional cloudy periods in eastern areas. Little change in temperature and light winds.

Low tonight and high Saturday at Quesnel and Prince George 20 and 40; Smithers 25 and 40.

PANEL DISCUSSION ON TRANSIENT TOPIC

The public are invited to attend a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the John Howard Society Monday, Feb. 23 at 8 p.m. in the Health Centre annex. The location is 200 Queenway Ave.

Bert Johnston, publicity co-ordinator, said today the topic will be Service to the Homeless Transient.

Members of the panel are Staff-Sergeant T. J. L. Kelly head of the Kelowna RCMP detachment, who will speak on the police aspect, Lionel Wade district supervisor of provincial welfare services and Thomas Hamilton welfare administrator for the city of Kelowna.

"This topic is of interest to everyone," Mr. Johnston said. "We are counting on a good turnout."

Election of officers will also take place.

Hospital Improvement District Will Be Subject Of Panel Discussion

A panel discussion concerning the proposed hospital improvement district will be held at the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

Participating in the discussion will be Mayor R. F. Park, Kelowna; Victor Had, Kelowna; and the Kelowna Hospital Improvement District.

The discussion will be held at 8 p.m. at the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce. Admission is free.

Winfield C of C Slate Next Meeting Feb. 26

WINFIELD — The executive committee of the Winfield, Okanagan Centre Chapter of the C of C, has decided to hold a meeting on Feb. 26.

The proposed hospital improvement district will be discussed and discussed at the meeting which is to be held in the Winfield Memorial Hall, Feb. 26.

Other highlights of the chamber meeting included:

One new membership was approved, that of Swanson's Sprays.

PROJECT

The chamber hopes to take part in the B.C. Centennial and work on a project for the three districts.

The chamber received a letter from a prairie barber who wanted to locate here. Arrangements were soon completed and he will open up in the Winfield shopping centre.

Okanagan Highway Reported Clear

B.C. highways are mostly bare with some slippery sections, department of highways officials said today. Compact snow remains on the passes.

Highway 97 is bare from the border through to Kamloops. Watch for rolling rocks near Monte Lake.

Clinton to 100 Mile House on the Cariboo highway has frosty sections at night, wet in daytime. Otherwise bare.

Revelstoke to Sicamous has slippery sections, sanding. Lower levels of Rogers Pass have slippery sections, compact snow at the summit. Winter tires or chains required.

From Kaleden to 10 miles out of Princeton the highway is mostly bare, some compact snow.

The Fraser Canyon is closed Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. from Yale to Boston Bar. Open Saturday and Sunday. The road is bare. Rough and muddy in construction area. Watch for rolling rocks.

Firemen Schedule Annual Meeting

Reports will be presented and new officers elected at the annual meeting of the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Department Monday night, A. S. August, deputy chief, said today.

The business meeting will be from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the Fire Hall. A social evening will follow.

Former firemen who have served three years on the Brigade have been invited to the meeting.

REGIONAL DIVISION

The province is divided into regions with regular regional meetings where instructors discuss problems. Kelowna belongs to a region extending from Golden to Oliver.

"A teacher sometimes feels she is making very slow progress," Mrs. Boyle said. "Getting out to observe other schools and attending regional meetings you realize everyone has similar troubles and you go home encouraged." The progress is there it's just slower than in other types of teaching.

"We don't belong to the Community Chest in Duncan," she said. They operate there on a grant from the school board only. Their property is surrounded by an Indian reservation where classes can wander out doors on nature hikes."

This Man Caouette, He Is Dangerous

This man Caouette is dangerous. He is leader of an established political party, the Ralliement des Creditiers, with a recognized representation in the House of Commons.

And yet, at a public meeting in Montreal, Mr. Caouette said the theft of weapons from a Montreal armory was nothing compared with the "butchery" of French-Canadian youths conscripted for military service in the Second World War.

He did this knowing of the seriousness of the situation posed by the possession of the stolen weapons in the hands of a group of young fanatics. One can only conclude that Mr. Caouette is trying to add fuel to the flame of lawlessness and violence in his province.

We do not for one moment think that Mr. Caouette speaks for the people of Quebec, but he does speak for a small but turbulent minority. Coming from a man in his position, however, and revealing a complete absence of any sense of responsibility, his words are frightening.

Should the authorities fail to recover the weapons and should graver crimes be committed, will these too be condoned by Mr. Caouette and his party? Should the extremists of the opposite persuasion decide to take the law into their own hands and a fratricidal conflict ensue, would this, too, be gnat to Mr. Caouette's mill?

Mr. Caouette repeatedly has shown himself to be completely lacking in any sense of responsibility. He has, indeed, made himself something of a laughing stock in the rest of Canada. Yet his man is the leader of a political party and should not be laughed at but considered seriously. He could be dangerous.

This little, power-hungry man is sowing the wind. Does he really expect to be able to reap the whirlwind with impunity?

Strange Wedding Gift

A little whimsy in this life is not a bad thing. It adds flavor and a bit of spice to the humdrum of everyday life. But has it any place in the courts?

Down in southwestern Ontario a man was arrested for traffic violations. He admitted driving with one arm while cuddling his fiancée with the other after drinking half a bottle of gin.

The constable who made the arrest said he did not see the girl beside the driver until he stopped the car after it jumped from a service road into the path of his cruiser on a Queen Elizabeth Way ramp in Oakville.

The magistrate smilingly told the accused: "Possibly you are guilty of crowding the front seat or of making an improper left turn, or of failing to signal or making an improper exit from a sidewalk, or even of being impaired. But as you later married the girl the charge of careless driving is dismissed."

What in the world has the fact that the driver married the girl got to do with the case?

If the magistrate wanted to give the accused a wedding present, that was entirely his business. In that case he should have dug into his own pocket and bought a bon bon dish, a pair of candlesticks or a toaster for the happy newlyweds.

It would certainly seem that the magistrate was giving a present he had no right to give when he took the attitude that marrying the girl made everything all right in a case where someone could easily have been killed.

The Bureau of Statistics reports that 428 persons were killed in Canada in motor vehicle accidents last November. This was an increase of 21 over the previous November. Another 11,675 persons were injured in the same month.

There have been large battles in which there were fewer casualties. This slaughter on the roads is something that has to be treated seriously.

Different Point Of View

In Canada, the towns and medium sized cities like to see their populations growing spectacularly. It is taken as a sign of progress and prosperity when that happens. Canadian newspapers run stories of how much the population of towns and cities has grown in the years, and they are proud of it.

Over in England, however, quite a different viewpoint exists on the question of increased population for towns, even for new towns which have come into existence since the end of the second world war. A case in point is the situation which has arisen in connection with a proposed expansion of the new town of Stevenage in Hertfordshire. When the new town of Stevenage was first proposed, the aim was a maximum population of 80,000. That figure has now almost been reached. Now the ministry of housing and local government has proposed an extension of the town to bring its population up to new target of 140,000. And there are also vague reports that the ultimate population may go well beyond that figure, and that the town's boundary would be extended well beyond that envisaged in the ministry's present proposals.

Now the Hertfordshire planning committee has become the focal centre for a county-wide protest against this extending of the boundaries of the town and the large increase in its population. Major A. J. Hughes, chairman of the planning committee, says that nearly everybody in Hertfordshire is dismayed at the idea of extending Stevenage beyond its original target. They want to keep it at or near the 80,000 mark, and will protest strenuously at the public hearings against increasing it to 140,000 or some other figure even higher than that.

We cannot imagine any Canadian town or city raising much objection to a government scheme to give its population the kind of boost which is proposed for Stevenage.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

He Wants No Part In Battle Of Sexes

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: According to my understanding, fraternal twinning is the result of a double ovulation (two ova, or eggs, instead of the usual one, in that cycle). The mother is the sole factor in their creation, other than fertilization itself.

However, when one fertilized egg divides and forms identical twins, does the heredity of the mother cause this, or can the heredity of the father also be responsible?—D.M.K.

What's this, an invitation to join the battle of the sexes? If so, I ask to be excused. Anyway, whether twins are the influence of the mother, or the father, there isn't anything that either can do about it.

However, we know a few things, although not all, about the numerous factors which are involved in twinning. Some women have several sets of twins. But don't shortchange papa, either. It is believed that the father carries a gene which is capable of making a single egg split early to produce identical twins. It is also believed that the father's sperm can have certain characteristics which cause double fertilization when two ova are present.

There is a recorded case of a man who, married twice, had twins or triplets in each of the marriages.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do candy and sweets cause children to have pinworm? If one child has them, can the other get them from the stool in the bathroom? I know a child who had them and was kept in the hospital for a week. Meantime, the other children all got them, and a few months later they all got them again.—MRS. E.P.

Candy doesn't cause pinworm. It is pinworm eggs! A child for an adult swallows the eggs, which are too small to be seen. Then the eggs hatch, and more pinworms appear. They in turn move down to the outlet of the bowel and lay more eggs.

That's the story of pinworms. Underclothes, bedclothes and bedding are the logical places for the eggs to be found, but they can then be shaken onto the floor or wherever. Busy childish fingers touch them. And sooner or later some of the eggs are swallowed, and the whole annoying cycle begins again.

If we could just teach children to wash after going to the bathroom, and before eating anything, and never to touch hands to the mouth or lips, the pinworm problem probably would become a minor one.

But you know how kids are! I suggest that you pass along to this family a copy of my booklet, "Pinworm, the Commonest Pest". You can have a copy by sending $25 in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

After years of struggle, we now have an excellent method for pinworm control. The week ending Feb. 22 is to prevent a few eggs from starting another outbreak, write the problem has been solved.

Dear Dr. Molner: When my son was a baby, we lived in a house with a concrete floor. He was just learning to walk and he was getting sick. It caused small swellings and the marks on his feet. These disappeared after two or three days.

How can I be sure that these feet have left him with no brain damage?

Do I have cause to worry?—MRS. P.T.

I guess all children collect some black and blue spots and bumps. When they are just learning to walk, I much favor keeping them on a rug or carpet, because concrete floors are uncomfortable to fall on. But I think you are worrying needlessly. The skull, even of a toddler, is pretty rugged bone.

Bumps of the scalp don't mean that damage has occurred inside the skull. I'd just forget about it.

If we could just teach children to wash after going to the bathroom, and before eating anything, and never to touch hands to the mouth or lips, the pinworm problem probably would become a minor one.

But you know how kids are! I suggest that you pass along to this family a copy of my booklet, "Pinworm, the Commonest Pest". You can have a copy by sending $25 in coin and a stamped, self-addressed en-

OTTAWA REPORT

Fringe Benefits

Thwart Tax Man

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Daily Courier Ottawa Bureau

As fringe benefits have increasingly formed a portion of the remuneration of workers, in place of straight cash, the tax-gatherer has increasingly been being out. Governments have levied taxes of 15 or 20 per cent on cash income, and that has proved easy to collect. But how can a government collect 15 or 20 per cent on the fringe benefits of a staff of salaried or casual weekend employees of a company?

To simplify the problems of employers and employees, and to try to boost his take without raising tax levels, Hon. Jack Campbell, Minister of National Revenue, has issued an information bulletin dealing with employees' fringe benefits.

This lists the most common types of such benefits, and explains whether or not their estimated cash value should be included in the calculation of the employee's income.

UNTAXED BENEFITS
Some employee benefits are exempt from taxation, so their value does not have to be included in an employee's income for taxation purposes. These include the following:

1. Benefits on termination of employment which are continuing payments to employees in lieu of wages when leaving their employer.
2. The transfer of shares from an employee to his family for use of the shares owned by the employee.
3. Subsidized meals sold in staff canteens or messes. The charge made is nominal.

4. Distinctive uniforms or protective clothing supplied for employees to wear while at work.

5. Tuition fees for special training or study courses designed to improve the employee's usefulness to his employer.

6. Free or subsidized schooling for the children of employees located in remote or unorganized areas.

7. Transportation from pick-up points to the job site at which for security or other reasons private vehicles are not welcome or not practical.

8. Loans advanced by an employer to his employee at low interest rate or free of interest.

9. Recreational facilities provided free or at nominal charge by an employer, incidental board and lodging, as for example at a summer hotel or bathing lodge maintained by the employer, must however be regarded as a taxable benefit.

10. Memorial expenses of an employee's family and household effects incidental to employment.

CLASSIFIED AS INCOME
In distinction to these non-taxable advantages, there are certain employee fringe benefits whose estimated cash value must be included in the employee's income. These include:

1. Board and lodging regularly provided as a perk of the job, except as in the case of bona fide employees and domestic and farm help, who are free of charges at below cost of fair market value.

2. Rent-free or low-rent housing provided by an employer.

3. Personal use of an employer's automobile.

4. Gifts in cash or kind, including Christmas and wedding gifts, except where these do not exceed $50 in value or when the employer shows that the gift is an advance upon employee's salary.

5. Holiday travel expenses paid in advance of regular pay, in cash or kind, awarded to an employee for long or meritorious service.

The above general rulings apply only when there is a direct employer-employee relationship, and not necessarily when the employee is also a shareholder or a relative of the owner of the business.

Vernon "Progressiveness" Probed By Toastmasters

VERNON (Correspondent) — A widely attended luncheon meeting Thursday heard members of the Vernon Toastmasters Club debate: "Is Vernon a Progressive City?"

With Elmer Roberts moderating, speakers for the affirmative, who said Vernon had progressed for 60 years. Part of its progressiveness was to develop the city as a progressive city.

Speakers for the negative, who said Vernon had not progressed for 60 years, were Doug Kermode and Ron Kermode. Jack Pasamore and Dr. Vernon Kisty, Chamber president D. G. MacMillan, were banquet chairmen. The debate was informal and there were no judges.

First speaker was Mr. Kermode who said Vernon had progressed for 60 years. Part of its progressiveness was to develop the city as a progressive city.

Speakers for the negative, who said Vernon had not progressed for 60 years, were Doug Kermode and Ron Kermode. Jack Pasamore and Dr. Vernon Kisty, Chamber president D. G. MacMillan, were banquet chairmen. The debate was informal and there were no judges.

Embryo Teachers See Lessons Held At Armstrong School

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Members of the Future Teachers' Club have observed two morning lessons, and were given explanations of the preparation involved, and an assessment of the student has been made by the classroom sponsor. These students will be allowed to prepare and teach lessons for two mornings, Armstrong Spillumbeek school board was told.

The board has accepted the local Kistner family offer to sponsor the safety patrol.

It was decided a representative will not be sent to the University of B.C. this year.

The school budget for 1964 has been accepted by councils of both the city of Armstrong and the municipality of Spillumbeek. The budget totaling $329,116, representing an increase of $29,811 over last year.

The board received a letter from Future Teachers' Club members Myron Dason, Jim Price and Stan Cope, reporting on the future teachers' convention held at UBC, and thanking the board for sponsoring their trip.

Referred to the management committee were four applications for teaching positions in Armstrong.

Two girls from the college of education will take their spring practicum in Armstrong.

President Named For Gardeners

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Members of the Future Horticultural Society has elected a new executive for the forthcoming year.

Executive now includes: John Fowler, president; Mrs. T. Gordon Lyster, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Marshall, secretary; Mrs. Harvey Brown, treasurer. Directors are Mrs. Lorne Hoover, John Vanderstar, Mrs. Stan Parkinson, Mrs. Walter McConnell and Mrs. William Delaval.

Maurice E. King of Kelowna, was the guest speaker at the recent annual meeting, his topic being new types of vegetables and new insecticides.

Next meeting of the society will be held March 2, when W. Ekobal of Vernon, will be the guest speaker. His topic: "Tuberous Begonias."

Canadiens Win 3-2 After Blowing Lead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Canadiens had just beaten Boston and moved back into a tie for the Montreal Hockey League lead, but the Montreal dressing room looked like a scene of tragedy.

They'd almost blown a sure thing.

Canadiens escaped with a narrow 3-2 win over Bruins in the only NHL game played Thursday night after surrendering a comfortable 3-0 lead in the dying minutes.

Boston stunned the sloppy Canadiens and a Forum crowd of 14,074 fans that was beginning to head for the exits with a tremendous rally that fell just one goal short.

Toronto Argonauts Complete Trade

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts, seeking to improve on their 1963 last-place finish in the Eastern Conference of the Canadian Football League, today announced a three-for-two trade with the third-place Montreal Alouettes.

The Argos traded offensive end Gerry Philp, defensive halfback Clare Ezeby and lineman Chuck Wood to the Alouettes for defensive end Don Paquette and fullback — linebacker Ray German. All are Canadians.

Just Doesn't Like Shopping Centres

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — Lewis McClung walked along a shopping centre mall Thursday, throwing a soft drink bottle through each of the 10 plate-glass windows. McClung, 46, was still there when sheriff's officers arrested him on a charge of malicious mischief. "He said he doesn't like shopping centres," one officer said.

non. Vernon Military Camp had brought in millions of dollars; it had pioneered with the construction of the civil arena; the Kamloops Lake marathon swim; the winter carnival, as some examples, which Mr. Kermode said, had been copied by other communities.

Vernon had more than 30 miles of roads, a beautiful park, a Silver Star. The life blood of the city were the dairy, fruit and forest industries. Mr. Kermode pointed to the expert development between service clubs and the success of Red Cross blood donor clinics.

IN PAST

Second speaker was Dr. Kisty, who said Mr. Kermode dealt too much in the past; it was the future we should be interested in.

Dr. Kisty said Vernon was not a progressive city, and invited competition between other cities of the same size. He said one reason was that he called a "split" in past city councils. There was also the fact which was good enough for a past generation, and was therefore good enough for them, that improvement would mean increased taxes which would deplete their savings.

Dr. Kisty said he felt the city should make concessions to new industry, buy up commercial properties, develop them, and sell to individuals at cost. He said, "MP was recently quoted as saying Vernon was not progressing, instead it was drifting, which, said Dr. Kisty, meant going backwards."

Third speaker, and for the affirmative, was Ron Costworth. He said, "We would not be here today if Vernon were not progressing. Vernon has done progressive things because of a variety of city councils and has shown leadership," he said. He criticized the suggestion of "drifting", and said it was not right that pressure groups be used for material gains. He gave instances of Vernon being "first" in many developments and criticized a proposed shopping centre which would suck the blood from the main street.

Final speaker was Mr. Pasamore who said, "I am not interested in what was done years ago, now is the time."

He alleged that past councils had had "more things under study" than anywhere else he could name. He included in these the floral clock, and the months spent in trying to solve the sewage disposal problem.

NOT NEEDED

He advocated the purchase of a large tract of land being taken in and developed, with lots sold at cost. He concluded by saying that 40 years of prosperity was due to surrounding areas, but now, Vernon was not necessary to them.

He criticized the animosity which has developed between Vernon and areas to the south, and that while tourism certainly brought dollars, something larger was needed.

"We cannot eat culture," Mr. Pasamore said, emphasizing that Vernon must do something to bring in industry for payrolls. He concluded by saying Vernon needed a civic manager, and the city should go after industry. "Vernon is not progressive," he said.

Both sides were accorded rounds of applause by those attending.

Legionnaires Takes Title

VERNON (Staff) — Summerland Legionnaires came through with a 4-2 win over Vernon Juvenile All Stars Thursday night at Vernon, to take the Okanagan Juvenile Hockey finals two games straight, and win the right to meet the winner of the Northern B.C. finals for the provincial championship.

Summerland jumped to an early two goal lead in the first period, tallied once more in the second frame to Vernon's two, and then scored an insurance marker in the final period for the win.

Line mates Eugene Peacock and Joe Beggs tallied all the Summerland goals each scoring twice. Vernon marksmen came from Bruce Allen and Mike Clarke. Peacock also picked up two assists. Beggs was credited with one and the third member of the line, Bob McAdam, assisted on three goals also.

Vernon outshot Summerland 11-21, but Summerland took the edge in penalties, getting the nod eight times by referees Brian Roche and Dennis Casey of Kelowna. Vernon picked up three minors.

Reg Main Signs Again

VERNON (Staff) — Reg Main of Vernon, a product of the Okanagan Junior Baseball League, and a member of the New York Yankee system, has signed his 1964 playing contract.

The 19-year-old fastballer is reported to have received a substantial raise over last year's contract, but no terms were disclosed.

He started his pro career in the Yankee system last spring and was assigned to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The Detroit Tigers took a keen interest in him after he played his first game, but with the signing of this year's new contract, it means he will remain Yankee property for at least another four years, unless the Yankees decide to sell or trade him before that.

Reg will report to the Fort Lauderdale club at Hollywood, Fla., on March 15 for spring training.

Credit Union Had Good Year

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Raleigh Ross was elected president of the Armstrong Spillumbeek Credit Union at its annual meeting.

Elected vice-president was Stan P. Nitchie. Ernest Hirschmiller was elected to fill the vacancy on the board of directors, a result of the retirement of Fred Huggins. Re-elected as chapter delegate was O. W. Norstrom.

With the appointment of an auditor, it was decided a supervisory committee was no longer necessary.

The 23rd annual report of the board of directors indicated a most successful operation of the Credit Union for 1963, with a greater year of growth in membership, and loaning activity than ever before.

Assets show an increase of $114,736, representing a 30 per cent increase for the year. Members savings have increased by $107,265 for an increase of 30 per cent. Loans show an increase of 43 per cent over 1962 in dollar value.

Pups Play Arena Triple

VERNON (Staff) — Three games were played in the Pups division, minor hockey association at Civic Arena Thursday.

In the junior league the Lions downed the Cubs 5-3. Lion scorers were Terry Lowe with a pair, Steve Kallarak, Boyce Kucherman and Lorne Stecyk with singles. For the Cubs it was Robert Donald, Hugh Seaton and George Ricketts.

In the Intermediate League, the Vikings recorded their second consecutive win over the Hawks by blanking them 4-0. Allan Schuck led the Viking attack with two goals, while singles came from Garry Wenzlaff and Pat Maxnuk.

In the senior league, the Wings posted a narrow 3-2 victory over the Shamrocks. Scoring for the Wings were: Jim Stecyk, Doug Fleming and Doug Landsall. For the Shamrocks it was Bobby Kurbia and Leyle Brewer.

The Pups' teams will be playing at the usual time next Thursday afternoon in the arena.

District Riders Handed Honors

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — The Armstrong-Enderby Riding Club will hold a special meeting for members 16 and under, in the Dolphin Brown office, Armstrong, Feb. 29 at 8 p.m.

This meeting is primarily for the Armstrong group and a similar meeting will be held in Enderby at a later date. Honors have gone to two members of the club this month. K. A. Rutczynski of Freedom Stud Farm at Salmon Arm, tied for second place in the 1963 list of British Columbia's leading race horse breeders.

Jim Davison of Armstrong, was chosen as one of 15 directors for the newly-formed Okanagan Horseman Association.

The next meeting of the club will be held in Hualcar Hall at 8 p.m., March 9.

School At Armstrong Gains Accreditation For 3 Years

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — The Board of Trustees of the Armstrong-Spillumbeek School District No. 21, were told by Dennis R. Stubbs, principal of the Junior-Senior High School accreditation has been granted to this high school for the next three years.

This was supported by Floyd Irwin, district superintendent, who said the percentage of exams passed last June was in the top quarter, also the number of grade X students staying in school to graduation, and the percentage of successful scholarship candidates in this school, have been average. Although the school is below average in the percentage of university program graduates, the percentage of qualified staff is up to the provincial standard this year.

Recent attendance at the high school has been poor due to the flu epidemic, with approximately 50 students absent each day during the last couple weeks. Several teachers have also been absent for the same reason.

The Students' Council at the high school has raised over $100 for the United Nations Health project for African children.

Al Mosher, principal of the elementary school, told the meeting of plans for education week, these to include a tea and open house for the parents.

Mr. Mosher said mid-term tests have been good at all levels; also the results of the special class for slow learners has been excellent, with a growth of a year in nearly all cases taking the Stanford achievement tests, as compared to last year. Much emphasis is being placed on the use of phonics in the reading, language and spelling classes.

Okanagan's Apple Harvest Now Three-Quarters Sold

Three quarters of the Okanagan Valley's 1963 apple crop has already been sold, Douglas Glover, B.C. Tree Fruits Limited director, said Thursday.

Addressing the northern district council, Mr. Glover said 4,626,823 boxes have been marketed to date of an expected total of 5,950,000 to be sold on the fresh market.

This, it was pointed out, is in contrast to slow sales in Washington State and in Ontario.

Meanwhile, North Okanagan orchardists are taking full advantage of ideal weather conditions to step up pruning operations.

Peewee Stars Fight It Out

VERNON (Staff) — Kelowna Peewee all stars kept their playoff hopes alive Thursday night by whipping the Vernon Stars 4-1 at Vernon Civic Arena, to even the best of three series at one game each.

Dropping a 6-4 decision to Vernon last week on home ice, the Kelowna squad came to life with two unanswered goals in the first period, repeated the procedure in the second and then for the hometown boys tally one of their own in the third period to force a third and deciding game Saturday in Vernon.

Tom Mullington led the Kelowna attack scoring twice and picking up an assist. Singles were scored by Cyril Collingwood and Mike Roche, while Vernon's line marker came off the stick of Doug Dirk with Wayne Dye and Scott Shirley assisting.

RELIVE STOLEN BEDFORD England (CP) — A naval dirk that belonged to Horatio Nelson, a watch that he gave his sister and a watch belonging to his wife, Capt. Hardy, were among items stolen from the Bedford museum.

BRING MEMORIES LONDON (CP) — A group of 100 officers and men of the Black Watch regiment are back in London after a three-month tour of Canada and the U.S. Nine of their pipes took part in the Kennedy funeral ceremonies at Washington.

Top Hand: Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play

QUIZ - You have the following hand. Both sides vulnerable.

PROBLEM - 1. Your partner opens the bidding with One Heart. Next player passes. What would you bid?

2. Your right-hand opponent opens with One Heart, which you double, and your left-hand opponent bids Two Hearts. What would you bid now?

3. You deal and bid One Spade. Partner responds Two Hearts. What would you bid now?

4. Your partner deals and bids Three Clubs. Next player passes. What would you bid now?

5. You deal and bid One Spade. Partner responds Two Clubs. What would you bid now?

Here are the answers:

1. One Spade. The only other bid to consider is two spades, but, as played by most experts, the hand is not quite good enough to justify a jump-shift. Their response would be two spades if partner opened the bidding with a club or a diamond because of the increased possibility of making a slam. But opposite a heart bid, for which there is no trump fit, they would respond one spade, planning to take giant steps later.

2. Double. This is still a take-out double, even though partner has the opportunity to respond and didn't. Obviously, the hand is too good to give up without bidding again, and the best way of correcting further is to double once more. The alternative bid is two spades, but this might lead to the wrong partnership contract.

3. Three clubs. We have the high-card values to justify a bid of two notrump, but the winning distribution. The unbalanced nature of the hand is suggested by the three club bid. This is a forward-going bid and indicates a value well above a minimum opening.

4. Five clubs. Presumably, three clubs is a preemptive bid intended to embarrass the opponents. At the same time, also, the three club opening denies the high-card values associated with the normal opening bid of one of a suit. For this reason it cannot properly be assumed that partner has as much as even club to the A-K and a side ace.

5. Four clubs. The jump raise shows approximately the high-card values we have, as well as the distributional features. At the same time, it leaves room for partner to cuebid or use Blackwood if he is interested in contracting for a slam.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW - This day augurs well for social and domestic affairs. The accent is on optimism and pleasantness in both personal and business relationships, so the day should be stimulating in most respects. Be careful in financial affairs, however - especially in the late P.M.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY - If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, as of now, you could make excellent progress by trying out new ideas - either in your present job or in an allied field - even though results may not be evident until October and/or December. Where finances are concerned, you may experience some "ups and downs," since the aspects under which you will be governed along these lines will be excellent in mid-June, late November and early December. Look for "slowdowns" in mid-July, mid-September and mid-December, however.

In personal relationships, you have much to look forward to with romance emphasized in late May, late August and mid-December; travel in July, November; and a generously happy domestic life for at least 12 months. Do try to avoid friction in late May and mid-September, however. Social activities should be exceptionally stimulating in June, August, November, December and next January.

A child born on this day will be endowed with great willpower and practicality, but may be unduly suspicious of others.

Inlanders Topple Totems Thursday

DENVER, CP—Denver Invaders broke open a tight Western Hockey League game with two goals in the second period Thursday night and then ran away to a 6-3 triumph over Seattle Totems Thursday night. The game did nothing to the standings. Denver is on top with 10 points and Seattle is second with 8—none more than Portland and two more than Los Angeles and San Francisco and five more than Vancouver.

Carling Pilsener

say “Pil” please

It's the easy way to order an old favorite

Everywhere in British Columbia, from south of the Fraser to North of the Peace it's a “PIL” for people who enjoy a truly fine beer, a beer with a distinctive flavor — fresh, natural, satisfying. Say “PIL” please, for CARLING PILSENER beer, enjoyed by British Columbians for four decades.

Former NHL Defenceman Recalls Days Of Puck Wars

VANCOUVER (CP)—By Bull them crazy—they couldn't get let in a Canadian father. Color the puck out of their end.

Two seasons later Buller went into a slump and was sent spare time he coaches two his to Saskatoon of the Western Hockey League.

He's assistant manager of a downtown Vancouver hotel. He's well-dressed and well-spoken, an ideal man for the job.

But his name might also ring a bell that isn't connected to the reservations desk.

In his time Buller played a lot of hockey himself. He began young and quit young. He's only 31 now, though he's 10 years away from the professional game.

Just 12 years ago he was named to the National Hockey League's second all-star team, along with two others who didn't make the first squad—Rocket Richard and Bill Schmitt. And he still holds the record for having scored more goals than any other defenceman in the American Hockey League.

Buller, a native of Montreal, grew up in Saskatoon and learned his hockey there. At 17 he played a full season in the AHL with Indianapolis. At 18 he was in the NHL with Detroit Red Wings and played seven games before going back to the AHL with Hershey.

"Then there was a trade that made headlines, and no wonder Cleveland of the AHL had paid $15,000 for Babe Pratt, the same for Joe Cooney. They traded the two veterans for me, an unknown . . . Even to me it didn't make sense."

SCORED 16 GOALS

Buller was with Cleveland three years. The last year he got 16 goals, 41 assists, playing defence.

"Wally Hergesheimer had a good season with us that year too, so New York Rangers traded six players and a bundle of cash for Wally and me." That was in May, 1951.

That season he got 12 goals and 23 assists, but he best remembers the penalty-killing unit he made up with Eddie Killman, Edgar Laprade and Allan Stanley.

Toronto Maple Leafs had a great power play with such stars as Tedder Kennedy, Sid Smith, Jimmy Thomson and Tim Horton but the Ranger group drove

Japan—A Hotbed Of Journeymen

TOKYO (AP)—Given the pay scale route for the American of being major league teams.

On the road the players travel in the United States. On the road the players travel in the United States. On the road the players travel in the United States.

The latest arrivals are very different from the old-time journeymen. They are the latest in a long line of players who have played in the United States and then moved here.

The big attraction? Basically it's money. Average salaries for the seven-month Japanese season are $15,000 to $20,000.

Official life is much the same in Japan as it is in the United States for the imported players. Most live with their families close to their club's home park. Some of the teams even

Howie Young Has No Regret

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Contracted Howie Young, checked in with Los Angeles Blades Wednesday and expressed no regret in stepping down from Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League to the western league.

"My only regret is the difference in money," said the 26-year-old defencive player.

Young was waived out of the NHL and the Blades bought him out of another move by the Chicago Blackhawks.

Los Angeles offers a bright new opportunity, Young said at a press conference, and was the only one of two minor league hockey cities he cared to play in. San Francisco was the other.

The 185-pounder, admittedly an aggressive player, led the NHL in penalties last year and was involved in several off-ice escapades that led him into criticism from other owners in the league.

Dynamiter Suspended For Part In Fracas

TRAIL (CP)—Reo Tourine of Kimberley Dynamiters of the Western International Hockey League has been suspended for one year as the result of a fight.

Tourine received a match penalty in a game at Kimberley Feb. 4 in which John McDonald of Spokane Jets was sent to hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in the scuffle.

Vancouver Rower On Cambridge 8

LONDON (CP)—John Lecky, the lanky law student from Vancouver, has once again been selected for the Cambridge crew in the historic Oxford-Cambridge annual boat race.

Lecky was in the crew that won the 1962 university race but missed last year's encounter when Oxford scored its 48th win in the 108 races held since the event was first staged in 1829.

His position in the boat has not yet been decided but it is likely he will be paired with John Kiely, a hefty American at No. 5 and No. 6—the so-called "engine room" positions.

Lecky, a graduate of University of British Columbia, weighs 200 pounds and is six feet, four inches—one-quarter inch taller than Kiely.

Christopher Davey, president of the rowing club, said Cambridge will be using their 1962 boat.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

New York Rangers ended a 10-game winless streak by beating Montreal Canadiens 6-1 at New York 21 years ago tonight. Home attendance had kept up well during the slump, to which player injuries contributed. Rangers later set the NHL record for the longest stretch without a victory—losing 21 and tying four between Jan. 23, 1944, and Nov. 11, 1944.

Porous Bricks Of Chimney May Let Rain Seep Into House

QUESTION: My 15-year-old masonry chimney, uneven and with a few cracks, has a hole in the mortar joint at the top. Is the masonry the best? If not, is it correct to use plywood or chicken wire? After a floor first? Or use other type of rainproofing? The cement bricks are weathered. After the floor is below the chimney, the floor is not feeling prior to being by present moisture. The chimney is leaning as we must the four corners. It appears to be in good shape, no cracking of bricks or mortar falling away. What causes the moisture to stay at the base of the chimney and how can this be corrected?

ANSWER: The chimney bricks may be highly porous and need waterproofing. Masonry waterproofing preparations are available at masonry supplies dealers and some large hardware stores. An oil-soluble, very cap or rain seal may be applied to prevent rain from penetrating down the face. Highly porous bricks having a professional mason or chimney man inspect the structure and make necessary repairs or corrections.

LOW WATER PRESSURE

QUESTION: The cold water in one of the upstairs bathroom basins runs very slowly. It seems to be very low water pressure. I checked the faucet and washer. We have galvanized pipes throughout the house. How can I clear rust from the pipe to this outlet?

ANSWER: The only sure remedy for rust clogged galvanized pipes is replacement. The cheapest method is with copper tubing, which can usually be pulled up through the walls, alongside the old pipe. Replacing with rigid pipe may require breaking into walls and floors also involving painting and re-finishing. Usually, tubing requires little more than taking up a board or two in the bathroom floor or a small hole in the wall.

GUEST ROOM EXPANDS IN SCOPE

Guest room's scope has expanded. Here, it's a combination guest room, family room, music room and sewing room. Comfortable Chesterfield converts to a double bed for overnight guests. Compact Hammond chord organ is placed against a wall, decorated with distinctive accents. Sewing machine, on left, doubles as a lamp table when not in use.

Propagate Favorite Plants By Taking Cuttings Now

By G.H.A.

Despite the recent mud spells, we have experienced it is still too early for gardeners, however eager, to do much out of doors. This is a good time to increase some of our house plants, which, after a winter's growth, are probably beginning to show signs of decline.

Propagation by cutting is exceedingly easy in the case of ivy, coleus, geranium, wandering Jew, patience plants (Impatiens), and snake plant (Sansevieria). Cuttings of coleus, impatiens and wandering Jew, would be made from the tip of the plant and should be three or four inches long. Ivy and geranium, six to eight inches long.

Cuttings should be made with a sharp knife about one-quarter of an inch below the junction of leaf and stem, and the lower leaves removed. Leaf cuttings, such as African violet, begonia, snake plant and gladiolus are easily rooted.

While some plants such as African violet, coleus, impatiens, and wandering Jew can be successfully rooted in water, without any special care or attention, it has been found that in the majority of cases better success is obtained if the air, around the cuttings is saturated with moisture. This moisture is provided by using a tight propagating case with a removable top for air circulation. In the case of pots being used, an ordinary preserving jar may be used for a cover. If flats are used, make walls the necessary height by cutting four pieces of glass the dimensions of the flat, bind the edges with top at the corners and fit into the flat. Have another piece of glass for the cover.

ROOTING MEDIUM
The most generally useful mixture for house use is one third soil, one third sharp, gritty sand and one third horticultural grade peat moss. This should be packed firmly in the container, and over the surface, a layer of sand placed. When a small hole, equal to the size of the cutting is made with a dibber, the sand falls to the bottom of the hole.
Make sure when inserting cuttings, that the base touches the bottom of the hole, then pack the soil and sand all around it, to exclude any air pocket. When all the cuttings have been set, the container and soil should be thoroughly soaked with water, and the jar or piece of glass placed over the top.

Unless the surrounding temperature is exceptionally high, little watering should be needed. It is a good idea to remove the covering every morning for about 10 minutes, and wipe off any condensed moisture. Watch for signs of mildew or decay, remove any affected leaves and ventilate for a longer period. Dead or fallen leaves should be removed at once. Note: Geraniums need no covering but should be shaded from strong sunlight until roots have formed. Only firm shoots should be used.

POTTING

Cuttings not set in soil should be removed from the rooting medium when they have roots one or two inches long. Pot up in the usual growing mixture, weeds, but woody kinds take considerably longer.

When potted, do not use a flower pot bigger than is necessary. If they pull up, replace at once, firming the soil thoroughly and keep somewhat shaded until the roots become a little stronger. Feed with a dilute solution of 10 or liquid plant food. When they have become established, the plants may be moved to the site best suited to their requirements.

PLAGUED BY TRAGEDY

LONDON (CP)—A 15-year-old penniless, Thomas Clark of Bournemouth, drew his life savings from the bank to give his wife a "treat," but she died just before Christmas and thieves stole the money before Clark could put it back in the bank. Also stolen were a gold watch, received after 50 years with an engineering firm, and a gold ring given by his wife.

Severe Blow For Disease From Millionaires' Night

By JUDY CAVANI

Millionaires' Night, which was held at the hotel last Friday night, was a smashing success. The event was sponsored by the students of the Canadian Students' Fund to wipe out leprosy.

Each person received $100.00 in cash. The money was given to the students of the Canadian Students' Fund to wipe out leprosy.

Many meetings have been held lately to discuss and increase the graduating student's knowledge of the scholarships and bursaries available. The meetings are intended for students with high academic standing.

There are numerous awards available to those interested in higher education. One student of our school received over $1,000 in all, which means she was paid $120 a month for attending school. Hence, these awards are very worth the effort to keep this in mind.

Last Tuesday and Wednesday the students showed the film "Leprosy" to the public. The film is a "documentary" about the disease and its effects on people.

What will people do next? The students are planning to do more work to wipe out leprosy. They are planning to do more work to wipe out leprosy.
